

Name: _____

The Canadian National Vimy Memorial

Pax is at the Vimy Memorial in France. The memorial honours Canadians who served during the First World War. It has many beautiful statues and two tall towers that represent Canada and France. The names of many Canadians who died in France but who had no known grave are carved on the base of the memorial.

Pax is part of a flock of sheep that works there. They help by eating the grass to keep it short!

